DETAILED ACTION

1. The numbering of claims is not in accordance with 37 CFR 1.126 which requires the original numbering of the claims to be preserved throughout the prosecution. When claims are canceled, the remaining claims must not be renumbered. When new claims are presented, they must be numbered consecutively beginning with the number next following the highest numbered claims previously presented (whether entered or not).

In the instant application, the claims are misnumbered as follows: the eleventh claim is misnumbered as claim 9, and therefore all successive claims are misnumbered. Misnumbered claims have been renumbered 11-36, and the reference to the misnumbered base claims within the dependent claims has been corrected.

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-12, 35, and 36 drawn to nucleic acids and kits containing the same, classified in class 536, subclass 23.1.
 - II. Claims 13-18, and claims 25-34, drawn to methods for determining the presence of the IVS 3-2 A>G mutation, classified in class 435, subclass 6.
 - III. Claims 19-24, and claims 25-34 drawn to methods for determining the presence of a 6.4lb deletion, classified in class 435, subclass 6.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I is related as product and process of use to inventions II and III. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the oligonucleotides of group I can be used for purposes other than the particular assay methods of groups II and III; for example in nuclease protection assays, or as capture probes to affinity purify native nucleic acids.

3. Inventions II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the invention of group II (assay of the IVS 3-2 A>G mutation) does not require the separate assay of claims 19-24, nor does the invention of group III (assay of the 6.4 kb deletion) require the separate assay of claims 13-18. Additionally, the inventions have different modes of operations, as the assays do not require the same reagents, and different effects, as they examine different possible gene mutations. Similarly, claims 25-34 are included in either group II or group III, but the assay described in base claim 34 does not require the separate aspects of base claim 13 (group II) or base claim 19 (group III). Because the assays for claim 13 (group II) and claim 19 (group III) require different nucleic acid sequences, which are chemically and structurally distinct entities, the search of these inventions would not be coextensive, and a reference against one would not necessarily be a reference against the other.
4. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as demonstrated by their different classification and recognized divergent subject matter and because inventions I-III require different searches that are not coextensive, examination of these claims would pose a serious burden on the examiner and therefore restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP § 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103, and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See "Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re

Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. § 103(b)," 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder.

Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.

6. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

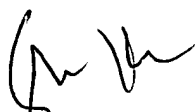

7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

8. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Stephen Kapushoc whose telephone number is 571-272-3312. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday through Friday, from 8am until 5pm.
